A BIG MEETING AT LAIE

President Woolley in Charge and Much Religious Zeal Manifested.

The conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints held at the prosperous Mormon settlement at Laie, on the Walalua side of the Island, is over. The conference of the converts of the entire group to the Mormon faith, opened auspiciously Saturday A morning and continued until last even-

President Woolley, who has long looked after the spiritual and temporal wants of the people who have embraced the Mormon religion, presided at its deliberations. Had it not been that the main body of the quaint meeting house was filled with natives one could almost believe himself in one of the Mormon settlements of Utah and close to Sait Lake City, Utah, the City of Zion, from which emanates the strength and force of the zeal which carries the missionaries of the religion into every land.

The delegates from the various Islands and from Honolulu were present to add their testimony to their abiding faith in the strange religion which Joseph Smith expounded nearly 70 years ago and for which he gave his life. On Saturday morning when the conference opened the auditorium and gallery of the meeting house were filled with the converts. In the speaker's pulpit sat President Woolley, Elders Musser and Moss, while near them in the space reserved for the young missionaries from Utah who are laboring in the Islands, sat a dozen young men, many of them hardly 21 years of age. Stamped upon their faces were the unmistakable signs of religious zeal and devotion to the work for which they had been chosen by the Presidency of the Mormon Church at Salt Lake City, many thousands of miles away from Hawaii.

The young men have, for the most part, mastered the native tongue so that the services were entirely conducted in Hawaiian. It is marvellous how the young Mormon boys master the language of the country to which they are sent in such a short time. Some of those who sat in the missionaries' section have not been in Hawaii more than Hawalian standard time is 10 hours 30 a year, yet despite the fact they have sinutes slower than Greenwich time, be- to work their way through the Islands, preaching here and there, expounding the gospei of the Book of Mormon in English and doing their utmost to spread the temporal kingdom of Brigham Young, they have studied the native language with rare success. The result of their work is manifest in the number of converts who are added DIAMOND HEAD SIGNAL STATION. from time to time.
